

DISAGREEMENT ON OPEN RATE.

Missouri Roads in a Fight Among Themselves.

Reason for Not Acceding to Demands of State.

Tariffs Fixed by Lines Are Higher Than Asked.

ST. LOUIS, April 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Gov. Hadley for the first time today made known the existence of a fight of the railroad among themselves as the probable reason why they had not acceded to the demands of the State to establish an open rate of 2 1/2 cents a mile for all passenger travel. The Governor said he believed a number of the railroads desire to concede all that the State has asked of them, but could not get the consent of all the railroads to the proposition. The rates fixed by the State yesterday was on the mileage book basis of 2 1/2 cents, and a flat rate of 3 cents a mile for all travel.

FIGHT ON IN ST. LOUIS.

Arguments begun in suit to dissolve Terminal Association as a monopoly. [ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] ST. LOUIS, April 1.—Arguments were begun today in the United States Circuit Court in the government's suit to dissolve the Terminal Railway Association, which is alleged to be a monopoly.

Attorneys Chester H. Krum and E. H. Crowe, representing the government, asserted that by the imposition of unreasonable charges on freight, a loss of $2,000,000 annually has been caused to the merchants of St. Louis and that many large manufacturing establishments have been driven out of the city. The Terminal Association was capitalized at $7,000,000, and now has a capital of $20,000,000.

Its organization was perfected by Jay Gould. Agreements were made by the railroads entering St. Louis to use the Erie bridge for all business between St. Louis and the East.

Rushing Copper River. SEATTLE, April 1.—M. J. Heney, who has the contract for the construction of the Copper River Railroad, may have to carry extra charges to carry the 4000 railroad men he is getting for the extension of the Guggenheim line to the copper mines in the interior of Alaska. In order to rush the line Heney has offered rock miners so much advance for station work over local rates that railroad men here are compelled to offer extra inducements.

Branch Opening Today. The Mexican government has accepted the portion of the Southern Pacific line in Mexico between Culiacan and Mazatlan and the formal opening has been set for today. A large party of government and railroad officials, including Vice President Cortes, will go to Mazatlan in a private train as the guests of the railroad, and the opening will be marked by appropriate ceremonies.

That part completed between Orland and Tequila, near Guadalajara, has also been examined by the government inspectors and is thought to be accepted soon. No date has been fixed for the operation of this branch, but it will take place around the time set for the opening of the Mazatlan branch.

Parker Cut-off Delayed. It is learned from a reliable source that the Santa Fe cut-off between Denver and Parkersburg, which was expected to be resumed early this year, will not be started until September 1. Officials of the Santa Fe, Phoenix and Prescott, the Arizona corporation building the line, state that no work will be attempted until after the hot weather breaks.

"DRY" SET-BACK IN MISSOURI. Anti-Saloon League's Measure Defeated in Legislature by Close Vote. Brewery Lobby Wins.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] JEFFERSON CITY (Mo.), April 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The motion to pass the Anti-Saloon League's "Pemberton County Unit Bill" was defeated today in the House by a vote of 46 to 49. The measure, which would give the Anti-Saloon League a majority, was defeated by a vote of 46 to 49. The measure, which would give the Anti-Saloon League a majority, was defeated by a vote of 46 to 49.

Canada Drinking Hard. OTTAWA (Ont.), April 1.—Convictions for drunkenness have increased throughout the Dominion by 144 per cent. in the last ten years, according to statistics in a parliamentary blue book, which has just been issued. In 1907 the increase of convictions for general offense under the criminal code was 124 per cent.

Worcester Man Keeps Up Suit at Intervals of Three Years.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] WORCESTER (Mass.), April 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Every three years for twenty-one years, Arthur Burke, 51, a widower, and for eighteen years a resident of this city, has journeyed to Montreal to propose marriage to a Canadian sweetheart. He started on his seventh trip today. He said he expected it would be successful.

He confidently hopes the object of his devotion will say "yes" and become his bride for he has made all arrangements to bring her back with him. What her name is or where she lives, beyond saying "Montreal," he refused to state.

LABOR. STRIKERS BEAT NON-UNION MAN.

ATTACK TILE-SETTER, LEAVING HIM INSENSIBLE.

Building Trades Conditions in Chicago Hampered by Labor Troubles. With Many Workers on Strike, Policemen Held in Reserve to Cope With Freight Handlers.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] CHICAGO, April 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] James Kennedy, 35 years old, a non-union tile setter, was attacked and beaten into insensibility by four unidentified labor union men near the main entrance to the Montrose burial grounds. Lieut. Collins of the Irving Park Place Station said the attack was the outcome of labor difficulties.

Kennedy, with his skull fractured and cuts and bruises on his face and body, was taken to the Dunning Hospital. His condition is serious.

Building trades conditions in the city are hampered by labor troubles in two directions, electricians and steam fitters having gone on strike. In both instances the men have quit work because their demands for increased wages were not granted.

The electricians number nearly 1500, and the steam fitters' union has about 1000 members. Street metal workers have asked for an increase of 50 cents a day, which has been refused. They threatened walkout but have postponed until after a meeting tomorrow to consider it further.

Twenty uniformed policemen and four detectives were stationed at the Chicago Avenue Station today in expectation of possible trouble at the wholesale grocery house of Sprague, Warner & Co., where between fifty and sixty union freight handlers went on strike yesterday, because they had been denied an eight-hour day.

COAL MINES CLOSED. THOUSANDS IDLE. [ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.] WINNIPEG, April 1.—Although the miners in several camps voted to accept the new schedule prepared by the operators of the coal mines in Western Canada, President Sherman issued an order last night calling up on the members of the United Mine Workers of America to suspend work in District 12 until the new arrangement is actually made. This includes all the collieries in South Alberta and Kootenai of British Columbia, excepting those of the Crows Nest Pass Coal.

UP AND DOWN THE VALLEY.

PITH OF NEWS FROM THE MIDDLE WEST.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] CHICAGO, April 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The weather was more spring-like today, and the forecast for the week ahead is promising. The wind, which has long been from the lake and other chilly quarters, finally is scheduled to shift to the south, bringing real spring temperatures. Today's maximum temperature was 44 and the minimum 37 degrees. Middle West temperatures:

with the aid of neighbors, finally captured the king of the air. Fully a score of persons participated in the conflict and pitched clubs and stones were brought into service before the bird, exhausted by his efforts, gave up the battle. Johnson was badly scratched in the encounter, although his nose was unharmed.

STEAMFITTERS OUT.

TIE-UP IN CHICAGO.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.] CHICAGO, April 1.—A tie-up in building operations, which were given a first blow by the walk-out of the tile layers and glaziers March 1, was made more complete today when about 1000 steam fitters and electricians went out on strike as a result of a refusal of their demands for increased wages. Unless the new strikes are settled within a few days, it is declared, demoralization of building in Chicago this summer will be threatened.

CELEBRATE EIGHT-HOUR DAY. THOUSANDS IDLE. [ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.] PHILADELPHIA, April 1.—Mining operations were suspended today throughout the hard coal district because the workers are celebrating the granting of the eight-hour work day in the soft coal regions.

The anthracite coal strike commission's award, which fixed the wages of the mine workers for the last six years, expired yesterday, but the miners will return to work under the old agreement pending the action to be taken at a conference to be held in this city next Wednesday.

BIG WAGE CUT.

SIX THOUSAND MEN.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.] PITTSBURGH, April 1.—The wage readjustment announced yesterday by the Jones & Laughlin Steel Company, Ltd., the largest independent manufacturer in the country, went into effect today. According to W. L. Jones, general manager of the company, about 6000 men are affected.

Mr. Jones says the "open market" conditions from an steel strike in the country, which has been successful in securing all the money he needed to float his schemes everything would have come out all right.

"I had great confidence in the ability of Mr. Kieran," said Father Mahon today, "but he did not get all of the money from the banks that he needed and failure was the result."

"I first suspected that Kieran was not working out well when I heard that he was paying large bonuses on loans. He often paid a bank a bonus of from 25 to 30 per cent of the face value of the note upon which the loan was obtained. A single bonus of $50,000."

ARMY QUITS CUBA. HAVANA, April 1.—A final general order issued by Major-General Barry today brought an end to the existence of the army of pacification in Cuba, as such, and at 10 o'clock this morning, the last of the American soldiers on board left the arsenal docks for New York. HARRIMAN AT HOME.

HALE AND HEARTY.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] NEW YORK, April 1.—Bronzed by his weeks of sojourn under southern skies and brimming over with vitality, E. H. Harriman reached here today, to all appearances a rejuvenated man, after his long combination vacation and business trip over the network of Harriman railroads in the West, the Southwest and Mexico.

"I have been made to say that we were constructing a line down the west coast of Mexico," he said. "What should have been said was that we had already constructed it. The line is now completed from Nogales, Ariz., on the Mexican line, to Mazatlan, Mex., and in reality a new country has been discovered by this railroad construction. In one tract opened up by irrigation, 600,000 acres of the best land in the world is now available for cultivation, and opened to a market. American help is needed in the development, in a directive way. There is plenty of labor, but American initiative and executive ability will count there as elsewhere."

Mr. Harriman said he found in the West and South a vastly changed sentiment toward the railroads. With such a sentiment there would be encouragement for the railroads to go ahead with development work.

"Repeal of repressive State laws is imperative," he declared, "if the railroad lines that the people need and the railroads that the people want to be constructed. The truth is, the States in adopting these laws only followed the example of the United States Government. Now let the national government set the reverse example. Not repeal, but readjustment of the laws regulating the cooperation is necessary."

Mr. Harriman said he had heard little talk about the tariff in the Far West.

Asked as to possible wage reduction by the railroads, he said: "We have not even considered the matter, and shall not so long as we can avoid it."

Neither had he agreed with the Hill interests in the West. A conference over terminal matters in Portland, Or., was his only communication with representatives of those interests, he said.

Mr. Harriman said the Southern Pacific expected to make a success of its irrigation plans in Southern California, despite the difficulties that he declared were being put in the company's way by the government.

"We have 600,000 or 700,000 acres of valuable arable lands for all time by our prompt work at the time of the Colorado River in-rush," he said. "I am convinced that we acted only four or five days ahead of the time when that land for all practical purposes would have been forever lost to reclamation."

CONVICTS NO LONGER SLAVES. ATLANTA (Ga.), April 1.—At sunrise today Georgia shook off the last rag of her convict slave system. Hundreds of human beings were led from the mines, chinking kilns and damp factories into the sunlight, from the control of harsh and often brutal taskmasters into the service of the State. Georgia has no penitentiary. For years her convicts have been sold to those who would buy.

APPEAL IN STIRLING DIVORCE. EDINBURGH, April 1.—Lord Northland and Mrs. John Alexander Stirling have lodged appeal against the decree of divorce in favor of Mr. Stirling handed down in this city last month by Lord Guthrie.

HUNTED DOWN. VICTIMS IN JAIL AGAIN.

Who Escaped from Folsom Caught on Boat.

Followed Away on Steamer from Sacramento.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] SAN FRANCISCO, April 1.—Michael James and Alexander Hagan, who escaped from the State Prison at Folsom on Monday morning, for whom a search has since been made in Northern California by named officers, assisted by bloodhounds, occupy cells in the city prison. They were arrested this morning as they were about to land from a river steamer Modoc, on which they had stowed themselves away before their departure from Sacramento. The officers were recognized by the men, who were taken to the Police Station with the four officers who were on hand to take them in custody when the dock reached. They will be returned to the city tomorrow.

Men are long-term convicts, sentenced for robbery. Hagan was sent to the penitentiary in 1907 for eighteen years from a city. They escaped from a steamer sent to oil a derrick by going over board along a guy wire a day. In this way they reached the bank of the American River, where they were recognized by officers started immediately on their trail.

It was reported yesterday that Hagan and Hagan had been spotted by Sheriff McLaughlin near Lincoln, Placer county. Hagan was unaware of his identity. MISSION STYLE MADE OFFICIAL.

Government Adopts It for Public Buildings.

Typical Architecture Chosen for Southland.

Policy Urged by Flint for More Than Year.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

WASHINGTON, April 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The architect of the Treasury building has decided that the Spanish or mission style of architecture, with its bold towers, red tiles, patios and arcades, shall be adopted for the buildings to be erected by the government at San Diego, Santa Barbara, Riverside and, in fact, wherever in Southern California public buildings shall be erected.

Senator Flint has been urging this policy for public buildings for more than a year, and it is in accord with the desire of most of the municipalities and public bodies in the southern end of the State.

After full consideration, the architect of the treasury has decided that style of architecture, with such modifications as may naturally be required in each case, is peculiarly suited to the climate and especially in accord with the history and traditions of the country.

The first building to be designed under this rule will be the one for Riverside. The abstract of title for the site of the Riverside building is now in the office of the United States District Attorney at Los Angeles, and under instructions issued by Oscar L. Lawrence, the architect, the government will not begin preparing plans for the building.

TESTING COURT JURISDICTION.

Supreme Court to Decide Whether Appeals May Be Taken from State to Federal Court.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.)

WASHINGTON, April 1.—The government is preparing to ask the Supreme Court to decide whether appeals may be taken from state courts to the United States Circuit Courts of Appeal.

The question is raised in the case of Anton Hansen, a subject of the King of Norway. Hansen filed a petition for naturalization in the Superior Court of King County, Wash., and the government intervened with the contention that as Hansen was an alien,
he was not entitled to sue in that court.
The government's contention is that the Supreme Court should decide whether the Federal Circuit Courts of Appeal have jurisdiction to review the decision of the state court.

If the question should be decided in the affirmative, it would give the Federal Circuit Courts of Appeal the right to review the decision of the state court in the Hansen case.

The Supreme Court has jurisdiction to determine the question as to whether, under the Federal law, an alien can properly make application for naturalization.

TARIFF GETS CLEAR TRACK.
HALE'S RESOLUTION.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.)

WASHINGTON, April 1.—The Senate adopted today Senator Hale's resolution to confine the business of the extra session to the consideration of the tariff question to the exclusion of everything else except the bill making provision for the thirteenth census.

Mr. Hayburn made an earnest plea for the exception of the reports of the committee on revision of the laws, which is preparing a recodification of the Federal statutes.

Mr. Hale, however, declined to yield to Mr. Hayburn, saying that if any exception was made other committees would also seek recognition. Senator Aldrich coincided with Mr. Hale.

DENIAL FROM CABRERA.
TROOPS NOT ON MOVE.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

WASHINGTON, April 1.—Senator
Herrera, the Guatemalan Minister here, received today the following cablegram from the President of Guatemala:

"GUATEMALA, April 1, 1909: Deny most emphatically the news in press regarding movement of Guatemalan troops on the Honduran frontier as such news is entirely false."

CONFERENCE ON LIBEL SUIT.
FURTHER ACTION AWAITED.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

WASHINGTON, April 1.—Following a conference with Attorney General McKenna regarding the Panama Canal libel suits, Stuart McNamara, who is acting as a special assistant to the Attorney-General, left here today for New York, where it is understood, he will confer with the United States Attorney concerning further investigation by the April grand jury into the alleged libelous publications by the New York World dealing with the Panama Canal purchase. The question of jurisdiction is shortly to be argued before the New York courts.
Other indictments were expected against the publication and perhaps other officers of the World.

COINAGE STATEMENT.
FIGURES FOR LAST MONTH.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

WASHINGTON, April 1.—The monthly coinage statement issued today shows the total coinage struck at the mints of the United States for March, 1909, was $10,432,267, as follows:
Gold, $9,544,730; silver, $641,655; minor coins, $23,882. These figures do not include 1,236,412 pieces coined for the Philippines.

SMITH WOULD COME HOME.
TIED OF PHILIPPINES.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

WASHINGTON, April 1.—Gov. Gen.
Smith, it was said here today, had signified his desire to be relieved of duty in the Philippines.

It was said, however, that nothing definite had been done, and no date had been set for his relief, although it probably will be in about a month.

Mr. Smith's desire to return to the United States is based on his wish to have his family in this country. He has been in the Philippines eleven years and it was said today that his services had been so excellent that his resignation would be accepted with regret.

A high official said tonight that W.
Cameron Forbes, Vice-Governor of the Philippines, probably will succeed Mr.
Smith.

ELIOT DECLINES HONOR.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

WASHINGTON, April 1.—Retiring President Eliot of Harvard University, it was stated today, in receiving from President Taft a tender of the Ambasadorship to Great Britain, expressed his appreciation of the honor, but his appreciation and belief that he would be unable to accept the post.

President Taft, it is said, asked Dr.
Eliot to consider the matter further.
The President's decision, however, was made after a formal declaration, and this was agreed upon. Dr. Eliot, however, told the President that, being 73 years of age, he hesitated to accept foreign service at this time, though he felt in perfect health and capable of years of energetic service.

It is said today that Dr. Eliot felt that his own views in declining the post would eventually prevail.

PRESIDENT NOMINATES.
LAWLOR INCLUDED.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

WASHINGTON, April 1.—President Taft, according to the Senate today, nominated George H. Moore of New Hampshire to be Minister to Greece and Montenegro; Leland Hand of
New York to be United States District Judge for the Southern District of New York; Harvey P. Sullivan of Alaska to be United States Marshal for the Third Division of that Territory; and Oscar Lawrence of Washington to be Chief Executive of the territory of Alaska.

Senator Flint has been urging this policy for public buildings for more than a year, and it is in accord with the desire of most of the municipalities and public bodies in the southern end of the State.

After full consideration, the architect of the treasury has decided that

EXPLOSION CRIPPLES LINER LEAVING DOCK.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

NEW YORK, April 1.—The Trans-Atlantic liner La Touraine was crippled today by the bursting of the main steam pipe of her port boiler, and was compelled to abandon her voyage to Havre.

Two of her boilers were frightfully scalded, but it was said tonight that they would recover.

The accident occurred as the vessel had come from her pier, and was returning to the river to the open sea.
Friends of passengers who were still waiting farewells from the pier, saw the ship developed in steam from water line to deck.

There was an explosion, but it was too faint to be heard on shore.
Those on board were seen scurrying about the deck in wild excitement. The ship "went under control" was run up.

The general agent of the line at once put out in a tug and upon reaching the La Touraine found that the explosion had shattered the in-take pipe of a piston of the port engine and so crippled the mechanism as to preclude all possibility of the ship continuing on her way.

La Touraine then proceeded under an engine to quarantine, where she was anchored.

Heirs of John M. Brown Fight for Estate of Wealthy Octogenarian and Chief Witness is First Husband of Old Man's Bride—Judge Steps Case.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

WASHINGTON, April 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] According to a decision rendered today by Justice Daniel Thaw
Wright, in the District Probate Court,
Mrs. Rachel Ann Goodman Brown enjoys the unique distinction of being a married woman in Maryland, a divorcée in Virginia and the widow of a bigamous marriage in the District of Columbia. The decision was brought about through the efforts of the heirs of the late John H. Brown, to upset his will.

Mrs. Goodman-Brown, nursed the wealthy octogenarian in his last illness, and shortly before his death the couple were married under a license granted in the District of Columbia.
It is claimed by the heirs that Mr.
Brown was not in condition to realize his act.

Mrs. Goodman-Brown's first husband, whom she had not seen since ten days after their marriage in 1873, was the star witness for the caveators.
He testified that the Virginia divorce, granted in 1875, was obtained on the ground of desertion and non-support, which causes are not valid grounds for divorce in the District of Columbia, and moreover, that the desertion was committed by the wife and not by him. Justice Wright on hearing this testimony promptly stopped the trial and instructed the jury to bring in a verdict favorable to the heirs.

Mrs. Goodman, not having seen her husband in thirty-six years, was unable to recognize him in the middle aged man of today the bridegroom of the early '70s.

FARM SOCIETY
FOR POLITICS.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.)

CHICAGO, April 1.—A farm society that shall be active in politics and represent the rural population to be the great need in the United States, by Norval D. Kemp, of Dayton, O., former secretary of Roosevelt's farm life commission, in a communication to the Chicago Association of Commerce.

Mr. Kemp pictures country life as a neighborhood community a few years ago, and declares it has been much disturbed by manufacturing progress.
"From this community," he says,
"came the men and women of the United States, and they were strong and upstanding."

"City life has not replaced on the farm the community life that contained in them, the quiltings and the husking bees and the barn raisings.
There is no longer any such thing as a true rural country society founded on the life and work of the country, embodying high and constructive and realizable ideals."

"Shall we not, then, in simple justice, devote ourselves to reconstruction? Shall we not try to learn what lies the heart of both city and country interests, replacing misunderstanding and opposition by understanding and cooperation? Our country is the nation's purest source, for it is there that we renew our blood."

Giant Rival and Get Valuable Land.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

PITTSBURGH, April 1.—Anticipating the United States Steel Corporation, which, it is said, had been intending to procure the property, a deal was closed today by independent steel concerns for 10,000 acres of Pittsburgh, Green, Fayette and Washington counties, at a cost of $50,000.

The property purchased and on which the first payment was made today, was held by J. H. Thompson of Uniontown, Pa., and associates.

The sale was made to a holding company, representing, it is said, several independent steel concerns.
Charles M. Schwab of the Bethlehem Steel Company, is said to be at the head of the new concern, and it is rumored that John W. Gates was behind the deal.

AUTO DAMAGE SUIT.
SAN FRANCISCO, April 1.—Eleven jurors were sworn today to hear the $20,000 damage suit brought against the Levy Strauss Company, by the widow of Albert Kingsford, who was killed in 1907 by an automobile owned by the defendants.

METHUSELAH DEAD.
NEW YORK, April 1.—Methuselah died here today, at his home in the Bronx. He was one of the last of his kind. His death is ascribed to his incident to old age. Methuselah, also known as Ramesses II, was a tomb which was discovered in a rock pocket in a mine 500 miles from the city of Butte, Mont., two years ago. His age was carefully computed by the zoologists and geologists.

DROWNED IN PIT RIVER.
REDDING, April 1.—William Bray, a blacksmith, met death in the Pit River today. He was employed at the river where he was working. His boat capsized as he endeavored to cross. Bray came close to the boat and gripped the keel and two hours later he was found. His strength gave out and he sank to his death.

DOUBLE PLAY THE FEATURE.

Snaps Foul With Outstretched Hand.

Knocks First and Crowds
Off McCredie.

Kestner Has Lucky Victory
Over Portland.

Los Angeles, 3, Portland, 2.
Kestner won the last season with the reputation of being one of the hard luck pitchers of the league, but he starts this year with about as much luck as any pitcher could hope for, and the best indication of this is the victory he won from Portland yesterday.

The Beavers out-hit the locals by eight to four, among which were two doubles, and they out-batted them, with probably accounts for some of the game, for some of the Beavers acted as if they had gum in their feet and boxing gloves on their hands. Some of them were so slow to get to the plate that the State League umpire had to give a time-out before the season is old enough to walk.

Withstanding some of this ragged baseball, the fans forgot everything they ever saw when Dillon opened with a double play in the first of the eighth inning. Some of the irresponsible who try to show their bleacher wisdom by calling Dilon an "old man," must have been born about 15 years ago, for he is only thirty-eight.

McCredie opened the eighth with a double to center and then slugged a home run to left, with one-half the fans trembling with fear. After several balls had been pitched at him, he hit a line foul to the right of first base on the side, nearly the players thought McCredie was six or eight feet from the bag toward second base.
Now as the ball was hit, Dillon stepped for it, and with a diving motion over the foul line, struck out his gloved hand and grabbed the ball.
The momentum carried him over the line, but he jammed one of his feet as it and completed one of the double plays ever seen on the Coast. McCredie, of course, was in his tracks and the fans did not believe the truth until they saw him walking from the base.

ANOTHER DOUBLE.
In the seventh inning Howard opened a liner and stepped on second base for a similar double play.
It had none of the spectacular features that Dillon's showed. These days must have shown the Beavers that they were due for a beating.
Howard also made the fans sit up with a beautiful assist in the eighth. Godwin's nifty grounder to short field. It was a running stop with the left hand and the ball went up in the air and still Howard changed it to his right and sent Godwin at first. Kennedy, sixth inning also showed a double play. Dillon's grounder past first base on which he touched out.

... were some of the best attacks of good ones, and they made up for the ragged work in other inns. On the whole the game was far being a good one, although there was lack of interest, owing to the fact that the locals could do little with Carson and the Beavers had equally as much trouble trying to slip Kestner.
The game settled down to one in which errors would decide a winner.
Howard team is in shape yet, apparently, and woe to errors must be expected for the next two weeks. Portland has already made fourteen, and Los Angeles eight in three games, and is going some for AA leaguers.

The locals started first in the second, when Howard hit to right and mashed second safely when Carson threw Smith's grounder to head Howard. But was too late. Howard went on a bunted sacrifice and a long to center.

Howard opened the sixth by passing up a single to second, advanced on a passed ball, and scored Kennedy muffed Carson's throw Howard's grounder. The final run was out and Delmas' boot of Officer to first of Carson's grounder.
The last run resulted in two passes, a single and an out.

Peach Tree Stump in Oregon Yields

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
PORTLAND (Or.) April 1.—[Excluwho procured work at St. Louis, Or., yesterday, counted it his lucky day, for he was just $3000 richer by working less than four hours.

The tramp was trudging along the Marion county road when he met Henry Williquitt, who is superintending the ranch of his sister, Mrs. Felix Gregoire of St. Louis. The man asked for a job, and he was taken to the Gregoire ranch and set to work the following morning digging up an old stump in the yard near the house. The stump was that of an old peach tree that had been on the ranch for almost half a century.

After working a short time the stranger disappeared. A box had been dug up by the workman and it was found empty. The family then recalled a story of buried treasure on the ranch. As near as could be ascertained, it amounted to more than $3000 in gold.

The ranch is one of the oldest in the State and consists of more than 600 acres. It has been the property of the Gregoire family ever since the early settlement of the State.
Felix Gregoire, who died a few years

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
ST. LOUIS, April 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Thirty thousand Jews of St.
Louis will have to vote a straight ticket at the municipal election next Tuesday or refrain from voting.

Election day falls on the first day of the Feast of the Passover, during which orthodox Jews are not permitted to do any writing, but they may cast an unscratched ballot, which does not require them to do any writing. As a large majority of the Jews in St.
Louis are Republicans, this will mean a great advantage to certain of the Republican candidates, who might be scratched by Jewish voters on account of individual preferences.

Republicans claim the agitation of the matter by the Democratic press is a scheme to frighten the Jews into remaining away from the polls. The law allows a voter to cast an election officer to scratch tickets for voters, but the large number of Jews prevents masking from doing so without blocking the polls.

FACTORY SHOES
From The Alkire Stock Bought At Fifty Cents on the Dollar—
Now On Sale in Los Angeles
The Alkire Company did a thriving business in Phoenix, Arizona, for a great many years, carrying the best grades of footwear known to the trade. Wishing to retire, their entire stock was offered at 50c on the $1.00. A big Los Angeles house, having a representative on the spot, accepted the offer.
The shoes are now here, and are on sale by the Mammoth Shoe House at 519 South Broadway. It is unquestionably the biggest "shoe event" of the season—nothing like it ever before seen in Los Angeles.
Shoes for men that Alkire sold up to $2.50 a pair, are priced by the Mammoth at $1.50 a pair. Men's fine dress shoes—Alkire's regular $4.00 to $5.00 qualities—are now offered at $1.95 and $2.95 a pair.
Alkire's women's shoes, latest lasts and leathers, values up to $3.50—broken lines—on the bargain tables at the Mammoth at 50c and $1.00 a pair. Better styles at $1.95 and $2.45—phenomenal values.
Children's and misses' shoes at 75c and up, less than half Alkire's prices.
Boys' and youths' shoes from $1.00 to $1.45, sold by the Alkire Company up to $2.50 a pair.
The sale will be at its best today and tomorrow. Come early before the assortment is too badly broken.
Remember the place—519 South Broadway.

The text is small and difficult to read, but it seems to be organized in a structured manner. The majority of the page is covered by a large, solid black rectangular area, which is likely a redaction or a placeholder for content that has been removed. The blacked-out area extends from the top of the page down to the bottom, leaving only the narrow strip of text visible on the left.

THE PUBLIC SERVICE In the Courts and Offices.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

George Alexander took office as Mayor and immediately asked the Fire Commission to resign. Richard Molony and Ben C. Robinson were named new members of that commission.

Mrs. Fay Lowenstein was held to the Superior Court to answer a charge of fraud and false pretense, by Justice Stephens yesterday.

The criminal departments of the Superior Court will be removed tomorrow to the new Hall of Justice on Buena Vista street and the first sessions in the new quarters will begin Monday.

Through a typographical error in this column yesterday the name of J. F. Bushnell, charged with embezzling a large amount from the E. K. Wood Lumber Company, read "J. B. Bushnell." J. F. Bushnell is head of John F. Bushnell & Co., rooms 346-37 Broadway building, and is a solid business man. He has no connection whatever with the Bushnell in jail on a felony charge, and the names should not be confounded.

MOLONY AND ROBINSON PUT ON FIRE COMMISSION.

George Alexander Becomes City's Executive at Noon and Promptly Asks Fire Board to Resign—New Police Chief a Certainty—Other Retirements Expected Today.

George Alexander became Mayor of Los Angeles at 11:45 o'clock yesterday forenoon. The canvass of the official returns was completed and the Council declared him elected only five minutes before City Clerk Leland administered the oath of office in the presence of a hundred men.

The ceremonies were brief. The speech-making removed some of the clouds that have lowered over the ambition of Andrew Jackson Wallace, Councilman from the Fifth Ward, to become Mayor of the City Beautiful.

After Mayor Stephens, who held office eighteen days, had thanked the Council for its courteous treatment and commended it for its eye single to the interests of the city, Wallace, speaking for the Council, congratulated the Mayor and declared him elected only five minutes before City Clerk Leland administered the oath of office in the presence of a hundred men.

The ceremonies were brief. The speech-making removed some of the clouds that have lowered over the ambition of Andrew Jackson Wallace, Councilman from the Fifth Ward, to become Mayor of the City Beautiful.

After Mayor Stephens, who held office eighteen days, had thanked the Council for its courteous treatment and commended it for its eye single to the interests of the city, Wallace, speaking for the Council, congratulated the Mayor and declared him elected only five minutes before City Clerk Leland administered the oath of office in the presence of a hundred men.

There is no set of circumstances, answered Mayor Stephens, that will make such a thing possible; I might as well be frank and say that there is no possibility of my entering a campaign or assuming an office.

"You disappoint us," said Wallace. "And everybody, remembering that Stephens' words had removed the chief non-partisan obstacle in the way of Wallace's nomination, smiled, some louder than others."

Mayor Alexander told the Council he knew the responsibility he was assuming, and that he wanted to discharge it to the best of his ability. "I want you to help me," said he, "sincerely, I realize that to make success of my administration I must have your help, and there is no reason why we should not cooperate. I have no political ambition, and all I want is to serve my time to the best interests of the city."

Wallace again made a speech declaring that the Mayor need not expect to avoid criticism, and that the only thing he could do was to do as he thought best, for he could not please everybody.

President Peace, whether intending to console Wallace for assuming a task for the Council (which is one of his habits), or for other reasons, assured the Council that Mayor Alexander would get along all right if "you" did not bother him. Which moved Wallace, with fine sarcasm, to advise Mayor Alexander not to listen to "outsiders," but to take orders from the Council.

After this the Council adjourned, and Mayor Alexander went to his office where he found former Mayor Stephens ready to greet him and turn over the city's business.

The new Mayor came into possession of his office with a firm resolve that rubber-stamp management should be stopped on official demands, and warrants, but when he found hundreds stacked up before him for manual signatures and learned that this was a frequent thing every week he decided that the rubber stamp facsimile was necessary and that one could be ordered.

Seven members of city commissions filed their resignations with the Mayor yesterday. First the Fire Commission met, with Mayor Alexander presiding, and after business was transacted, Anthony Schwamm moved that the commission adjourn sine die.

"The motion is all right," said Mayor Alexander. "But I want to say to this commission that I have nothing personal against any member of it, but I do feel that I should have the appointment of all my commissions. That is why I am going to request that all tender your resignations so that I may be free to do so."

The Schwamm motion prevailed. The resignations of all the members were placed in the Mayor's hands and were accepted. The announcement was then made of the appointment of Richard Molony and Benjamin C. Robinson as new members of the Fire Commission. The Mayor said he had selected the other members but had not received the acceptance of one, so that the commission would not be completed until today. His idea in announcing two members was to provide a quorum for a meeting of the Fire Commission, which does not meet until Tuesday. Hence, no other meeting of the old commission will be held Monday, in spite of the "sine die" adjournment.

Richard Molony, the Mayor's first appointment as a commissioner, is an old resident of Los Angeles and the pioneer wagon maker in his business career. He made many vehicles for the fire department, and also made the first patrol wagon that city used. He has retired from business and lives at No. 527 Prospect Place, Boyle Heights. He is well known in Irish and Catholic circles. His son is Rev. Clement Molony, pastor of the St. Agnes Catholic Church. Benjamin C. Robinson is foreman of the composing room of a printing company. He is known only as a member of the retail retainers and a unionist worker. He has been president of the Typographical Union.

The announcement that an entirely new Fire Commission would be named was taken to mean that the commission would be provided throughout. Fear that the new Fire Commission might displace Chief Lips was set at rest by Mayor Alexander, who said he knew no reason why Lips should be changed. He assured Lips private-

CONCENTRATING CRIMINAL WORK.

NEW SUPERIOR DEPARTMENTS TO OPEN MONDAY.

Quarters in Hall of Justice Nearly Ready. Where All Felony Trials Will Be Held Hereafter—List of Those Who Will Be Sentenced Today—Judge Changes.

The sessions of the criminal departments of the Superior Court will be held in the Hall of Justice, north of the County Jail, on Buena Vista street, beginning next Monday. Judge Willis will preside over Department 11, and Judge Davis will sit in Department 12. The books, records, etc., of the departments will be removed to the new quarters tomorrow, and everything be in readiness for the dispatch of the public business when court opens Monday morning.

Under the new rules adopted by the Superior Court judges, Judge James will occupy the department left by Judge Willis's court, and to allow the force an opportunity to break up housekeeping that morning, the following prisoners will be sentenced by the court this morning: Roy Schneider, forgery; George Buchanan, forgery; Frank Miller, burglary; H. INCORPORATIONS.

Articles of incorporation were filed with the County Clerk yesterday by the Seaboard Metal Works, capital stock $25,000, subscribed $10,000; Sunset Securities Company, capital stock $200,000, subscribed $50,000; directors, E. L. Jackson, M. A. Wilder, Joseph Dederick, G. E. Averill and M. S. F. Todd.

IMPORTANT TO MANY.

Instructions from Interior Department Regarding Issuance of Patents in Imperial Valley.

Gen. Prescott, register of the Los Angeles Land Office, received important instructions from the Department of the Interior yesterday in relation to the issuance of patents for lands in the Imperial Valley. Thousands of settlers have patiently awaited a ruling on this question, which is regarded as of paramount importance in the valley.

In the letter of instructions, the commissioner says: "Requests are being made to this office for the issuance of patents on entries, claims to be perfected by proof and payment, and by the issuance of final papers, for lands in the Imperial Valley."

"As there are many conflicting claims for lands in the Imperial Valley, it is deemed prudent even in the case of cases mentioned herein, to withhold patents for such reasonable time as will afford possible adverse claimants opportunity to be heard."

It is ordered, therefore, that no entries for lands located in townships of which plats of survey were heretofore filed in your office, shall be passed to patent for a period of ninety days from date hereof, and that no entries for lands located in townships reserved, but plats of which have not yet been filed in your office, shall be passed to patent until a period of ninety days from the filing of such plats shall have elapsed."

Four plats of survey in the Imperial Valley were received at the Land Office yesterday. They will not be considered officially filed until word is received to that effect from Washington. The following-named entries will be given ninety days in which to adjust their boundaries. Applications for entry will be received and suspended.

The new tracts are: Township 14 south, 14 east, which includes the towns of Kingsley and Alhambra; Township 15 south, 14 east, including the towns of Imperial and adjacent territory; 15 south, 14 east, including the towns of Imperial and adjacent territory.

The new plats will be on file in the Land Office for a view of interested entries. The readjustment of sections in the Imperial Valley is proceeding satisfactorily.

APPEAL DISMISSED.

And Contestant of Land Entry Lost, by Ruling of the General Land Office.

Appeal to the General Land Office from a decision of the Los Angeles register and receiver in the contest of Joseph E. Harshorn against William H. Harshorn, has been dismissed. The contestant claimed that Harshorn had not expended $1 an acre in each of the years 1907 and 1908, and that he had not expended $3 an acre during the same period.

Reference is made to the fact that Harshorn had expended $1 an acre in each of the years 1907 and 1908, and that he had not expended $3 an acre during the same period.

THE OIL INDUSTRY.

SHIPMENTS TO NIPPON STOP.

of Increased Production in Islands.

and New Formation Beyond Sherman Junction.

Peter Problem Is Growing More Difficult.

The announcement that no oil has been shipped to Japan from Gaviota since the first of the year is one of the greatest interests to the oil industry. The explanation given at the Gaviota is that production has been so low as to supply the demand for it hardly taken seriously by oil men.

Everything points to a desire of the Gaviota Oil Company to get out of a very bad bargain, by not sufficient to fill its contract which Henry Crocker made in Nippon. The price was very low—about 40 cents, it was commonly supposed—and when the Gaviota wells failed on account of water getting in the deal was practically called off.

Last year the deliveries to the Mitsui Bussan Kaisha were something like one-sixth of the 2,000,000 barrels wanted. This came from the Gaviota, but under contract the Gaviota was supposed to produce 2,000,000 barrels. The difference between its contract figure and the actual production was made up by the Gaviota's company.

Whether shipments to Japan have been permanently or not remains to be seen. It is supposed that the Gaviota company wants several million barrels, and if this be true, a very large surplus over and above home consumption may be needed to supply the demand. The present storage is hardly sufficient.

On the other hand the Japanese demand is not so certain. The Gaviota public does not know just how much the Japanese are supposed to want at large interests, was interviewed recently and he wanted 3,000,000 barrels of crude. He did not open his mouth as to the quantity of refined oil, and left without the least hint even to get acquainted with the official figures.

It is not impossible that some increased production in Japan has removed the immediate demand somewhat, or perhaps a supply has been sent elsewhere in the Orient.

No More Pumping Stations.

A director of the Associated in this city says there is no foundation for San Francisco report that the number of pumping stations on the coast will be reduced. The known fact of this kind is contemplated, as steps for the better handling of shipments with a view of increasing the line's capacity are being considered.

Formation Is Different.

Drilling in the field beyond Sherman Junction shows a different formation from that encountered in the Los Angeles properties. The new formation is giving more trouble in drilling than the old. Cementing is required on a large scale, and must be done by the rotary method. Drilling is slow, and the combination method, which is slow, is being used. The big gusher on the Wolfkill is a momentary phenomenon, and producing after several months' work, although the presence of gas in good commercial quantities is established beyond shadow doubt. There is now not a question of the field's success, but of time and money.

Thirty-two tons of cement have been pumped into the Pacific Petroleum No. 1 well at Sherman Junction, and the well is now producing. The well is now producing. The well is now producing.

Problem Is Growing More Difficult.

The announcement that no oil has been discovered in Japan from Gaviota since the first of the year is one of the greatest interest to the oil industry. The explanation given at the headquarters is that production has been suspended as to supply the demand, which is hardly taken seriously by oil men.

Everything points to a desire of the Nippon Oil Company to get out of a bad bargain. It has not sufficient cash, or through some such arrangement as that by which Japanese oil companies have taken stock in some of the American companies.

Whether shipments to Japan have been permanently or not remains to be seen. It is supposed that that country wants several million barrels, and if this be true, a very large order over and above home consumption may be needed to do much business. The present storage is not sufficient.

On the other hand the Japanese may not be so certain. The general public does not know just how much of these floating stores to be had. A Japanese, supposed to represent the large interests, was interviewed recently and he wanted 10,000,000 barrels of crude. He did not open negotiations with any of the big companies, and left without the least even to get acquainted with any officials.

It is not impossible that some increased production in Japan has been the immediate demand some oil, or perhaps a supply has been and elsewhere in the Orient.

No More Pumping Stations. The director of the Associated in this country there is no foundation for the report that the pumping stations on the line will be doubled. No steps for the better handling of the line's capacity are being considered.

The water level is giving more trouble in drilling. Cementing is employed on a large scale, and must be carefully drilled. The combination method is slow. The big gusher on the line is almost the only one of this kind in the country.

The Tom Reed Extension. In a letter received by The Times from Catman, Ariz., it is said that the extension of the Tom Reed has been discovered and opened by Pete McDonald, who has opened it in places for 500 feet.

The values are in white spar from eight to ten feet wide. The spar horn is free gold and it is asserted that considering the amount of development the showing is better than that made in the Tom Reed.

WAR OF GENERATIONS.

Three Involved in Family Melee in Restaurant and on Street—Police Take Fighters.

A little family argument in which three generations took part resulted yesterday afternoon in the arrest of Charles Kimball, his wife, Emma Kimball, Mrs. Ella Warner on charges of disturbing the peace, and W. H. Sanders on a charge of intoxication.

An elderly woman, whose identity was not learned but who is the mother of one of the women, and a little girl who is the daughter of one of the fighting couple, were also taken to the Police Station. They were waiting their turn at the sudden catastrophe and bade their relatives an affectionate farewell before leaving the station.

According to the arresting officer the fight started in the Impert cafe. The parties were hustled out and continued the argument on the street. At First and Broadway war was again declared and when the police arrived Mrs. Warner was beating Kimball, while Mrs. Kimball was beating Mrs. Warner, and Sanders had joined in the melee through sympathy. They will appear in court today.

MINES AND MINING. NEWHOUSE AND GOOD SPRINGS.

REPORT THAT UTAH MAGNATE WANTS LEAD MINES.

Directors Deny Hearing of Any Negotiations to Acquire Yellow Pine Although Admitting Property Is Being Sought in District—French After Mexican Iron.

There is a report that the Yellow Pine lead mine at Good Springs, Lincoln county, Nev., in which Longyear and Kent of this city are interested, has been bonded to Samuel Newhouse of Salt Lake for $400,000.

Mr. Longyear is in Honolulu, but the report is branded as false by directors here, who admitted that Newhouse is trying to get a foothold in that section, but claimed to know nothing of any direct negotiation pending for the Yellow Pine. Mining men here assert that such a deal has been pending and that Kent (who is now at the mine), has full power to bond the property, in which event the directors seen would not necessarily know of the transaction.

The entrance of Newhouse into Nevada would mean a great deal for Los Angeles and great development of the tributary mining camps. A syndicate has been formed in France to develop the iron mines of Mexico on a large scale, and to erect steel plants at convenient points and acquire others already built.

An option has been secured, it is asserted on the Monterey steel plant, one of the most important industrial concerns in Mexico. Those promoting the project are well known to the iron and steel world and among them are Victor Belanger of Paris and Thomas Boyd, the great ironmaster of Glasgow.

The capitalization will be in the neighborhood of $50,000,000 and options have already been secured on many promising iron mines in Mexico. Nevada-Johnnie Active. Development at the Nevada-Johnnie, the extension of the Johnnie at Johnnie, Nev., has been sufficient to warrant the installation of necessary machinery to increase the output of the mine and a large party of officials and stockholders will leave Los Angeles tonight at 8 o'clock for Johnnie.

In the crowd will be Edward Doble, vice-president, also president of the Union Tool Company; Capt. E. Pryce Mitchell, a stockholder in both the Johnnie and the Nevada-Johnnie; H. M. Barton, a director; A. W. Redmond, an official of the Union Tool Company, and Col. J. W. F. Dins, secretary and treasurer.

Five men have been doing the preliminary development. Ideal mills, manufactured by the Union Tool Company will probably be put in in the near future. New Coal Strike. A rich coal strike has been made in the Las Esparanzas mines of the Mexican Coal and Coke Company, which is important because it carries all the necessary qualities for high-grade coke, as well as being superior for fuel. The deposit is asserted to be of large extent, and will greatly add to the production of coal in Mexico.

At present the bulk of the coal used in Mexico for all purposes is imported, and the scarcity and difficulty in getting in both coal and coke has seriously inconvenienced the smelters. The Tom Reed Extension. In a letter received by The Times from Catman, Ariz., it is said that the extension of the Tom Reed has been discovered and opened by Pete McDonald, who has opened it in places for 500 feet.

The values are in white spar from eight to ten feet wide. The spar horn is free gold and it is asserted that considering the amount of development the showing is better than that made in the Tom Reed. The claims will be called the Telluride group. The Miami Copper Company is to erect all of its mine timbers if the test being made proves successful.

HE BREAKS OUT AGAIN.

Ex-Secretary Lawson Sues Humane Animal League and Talks of Bringing Slander Actions.

Long ago the billy goat which caused the war in the happy home of the Humane Animal League died and was eaten for the mutton chops; but his memory will not die. Ex-Secretary George L. Lawson (formerly retired) has broken out again.

Yesterday he filed a suit against the league; attached his bank account, and states that he will, in the near future, bring suits for slander, asking damages in the sum of $20,000 from Miss Helen Mathewson and Mrs. R. H. Horton—$20,000 per lady.

In the present suit he claims $200.99 as back salary, due to the time his resignation was asked for, and for pound fees due him while he held office. After being dismissed as secretary of the league, Lawson still held office for a time, under Harper's appointment, as pound keeper. He claims he is entitled to all fees for stock impounded other than dogs during that time.

In his suit he does not specify what part of the $200 is due as secretary of the league, and what part for the pound fees. On the filing of the action, the league's account in the Park Bank was attached. Referring to his contemplated slanting suit against Miss Mathewson, the president of the league, and Mrs. Horton, a militant member, Lawson said yesterday:

"It was stated by Miss Mathewson at one of the committee meetings, and during my absence, that I had misappropriated two sums of money—$13 and $25.

"Without my knowledge, an expert accountant was put on my books. I did not understand at that time his mysterious allusion to the sums of $13 and $25, but have since found out what was said at this secret committee meeting."

Informed by one of her friends that Lawson contemplated this war-like action, Miss Mathewson said, with cold defiance, "Oh, well; let him!"

LOS ANGELES, March 21.—(To the Editor of The Times.) That was a vigorous shaking you gave our family tree in a recent editorial. Many thanks for the bit of romance. Emerson says: "Man is but the sum of his ancestors." But you over-estimate our virtues in dubbing the Dooly ancestors "red headed." Princes they were, and Lords of Tertullagh, County Westmeath, while the O'Dooling branch were chiefs in the County Wicklow and Queens county. Etymologically, "Dooly" is from the Irish root "Dubh," meaning "black, dark, featured, great," while their crest of sword and coronet justified your assertion as to their fighting proclivities as well as princely lineage. Some Anglicized branches are: Dooly, Dolan, Dowling, O'Dooly, and Day.

It was a Scotchman who first proposed the postage stamp idea. And he made it stick.

The "unexpired term" began very quietly yesterday. Will it end as quietly? We shall see.

She would be a happy woman who could have a new bonnet as often as Los Angeles has a new Mayor.

"Heaven is so near," warbles a Baltimore poet. He probably had just raised the price of a ticket for California.

We think Germany's strength has been attained by a careful avoidance of the weaknesses pointed by her rivals.

Pretty soon Uncle Joe Cannon's patience will become exhausted, and then there will be an end to this tariff talk.

"My country needs me," says Gen. Castro. What he means, however, is that he needs his country. Castro is broke.

It has been ascertained that Nick Oswald was not in Gardena or Strawberry Park yesterday. This is important, if true.

England is certainly in a bad fix—threatened by Germany from without and by the London suffragettes from within.

We wouldn't be surprised to hear that Los Angeles is also likely to wake up most any morning with a new Chief of Police.

We trust it is true that balloons can never be made "useful" in war. There are terrors enough connected with war as it is.

Tati's influence is already felt throughout the country. A negro, charged with murder, was given a jury trial in Virginia last week.

In his new book, Mike Donovan says Col. Roosevelt was not a good boxer, but that he had the wallop. It is the wallop that wins.

It is quite likely that those commissions connected with the city government which offered to resign will now get a chance to do so.

A New York minister of note has attacked evangelists who use slang and bar-room talk in their sermons. It is time somebody made such an attack.

A Chicago professor declares that love is a disease similar to indigestion. Well, indigestion causes heart-burn. The professor is a far-seeing fellow, after all.

Mr. Harriman speaks of "inbred State Senators" with particular reference to Illinois, although other States may take offense if they feel so inclined.

Persons familiar with the tune known as "The Good Old Summertime" are notified that they may now consistently sing or whistle the same without further notice.

Mexico is rapidly taking her place among the go-ahead nations of the earth. There was a riot between political factions in the State of Chihuahua the other day.

An appreciative husband will not neglect to visit the back yard these days for the purpose of complimenting his wife on the growth of the things which she planted.

Let us be patient and wait to see whether Los Angeles will be a different town under the present Mayor than it has been under the several other Mayors we have had lately.

A law has been proposed in the Minnesota Legislature making the wearing of red, white and blue lights a crime. In some cases the offense should also be punishable by death.

The restored Cuba has a Congress which held a complete session without enacting any legislation. If Cuba keeps that up she is destined to rank as the most successful nation in history.

Of course, it is nearly always summer in Southern California, but the season is officially established by the first baseball game played by the league clubs, which happened yesterday.

The contempt for money entertained by the average young nobleman of Europe is amply demonstrated by the fact that it is only occasionally that one of them marries an American heiress.

John Burroughs believes that as Col. Roosevelt grows older he will get over his love of hunting to kill. We hope Mr. Burroughs is a prophet. "Hunting to kill" is Col. Roosevelt's great weakness.

A Chicago critic, writing in the Record-Herald of that city, says Tschakovsky "played sanely." In this way, we suppose, he provided an asylum for those who have been compelled to listen to crazy music.

As far as can be ascertained, former Mayor Stephens concluded his term of office without having committed any serious errors. We doubt if Los Angeles ever had another Mayor with a similar record.

The consensus of opinion regarding tariff revision is slowly but surely veering toward the conviction that the better way will be to revise the schedules so that they will remain about the same as they are now.

The new Postmaster-General seems to be out after business. He has caused mail boxes to be placed in street cars in some of the eastern cities. They will prove a great help to the man who forgets to post the letter his wife gave him as he was leaving home in the morning.

THE NEW MAYOR.

Los Angeles has the third Mayor within a month. George Alexander, who was elected by a plurality of 1678 votes and an actual majority of less than 1300 votes, took the oath yesterday and began the performance of his official duties. He began as The Times expected he would begin, by playing politics. His first two appointments of commissioners were very obviously made for political effect. George Alexander, whether in the Mayor's chair or holding some other political job, is so constituted that he cannot do business in any other way.

Although he was legally elected and is entitled to due respect as the Mayor of our city, Mr. Alexander must be oppressed by the reflection that he received the votes of but a little more than one-fifth of the voters of Los Angeles. He got about 14,000 out of a registered vote of 65,000. After all the hue and cry, in the face of the fact that there was no candidate for whom the bulk of the opposition could cast their ballots, Alexander received not quite 22 per cent. of the vote of the city. The contemplation of this result must be decidedly depressing to the Mayor.

These figures are also disturbing to the newsgazers of the recall, who declared before the election, and have since reiterated the insistent pretense, that the issue was one "between the forces of good and the forces of evil." They virtually contend, then, that 22 per cent. of the voters of Los Angeles are good men and that the remaining 78 per cent. are bad men. "How much better are we 22 per cent. than you 78 per cent.," they exclaim as they fold their robes about them.

Pish and tush! Also hogwash! The average citizen of Los Angeles did not and does not believe in the recall or the recall leaders. There is the issue. That was the issue. That will be the issue. It was and is a political and not a moral issue. The assertion of the inflated recall orators that all the virtue, all the conscience and all the civic righteousness was on their side or is on their side, is a libel on the community. More than their 22 per cent. of the voters of Los Angeles are good citizens. Most of the voters of Los Angeles are better citizens than the recall bosses.

THE CHEYENNE'S VISIT.

With due and profound respect for the opening of the baseball season, and salams to the flock of new, old and nearly new Mayors, going in and coming out of office, the most important news event of the month is not political. The most important news event is the visit of the monitor Cheyenne to San Pedro.

As stated in the news columns, the old monitor has been made over for the purpose of testing oil as a practical fuel for warships. The results of her trial of four months are stated in a general way as being "highly satisfactory."

But this is not enough to know.

The answering by the Cheyenne of certain questions is fraught with the deepest interest, in a general way, to every nation that owns a battleship; but, in particular, to the people of this Coast. There are two kinds of coal used in the navy; one is for ordinary cruising purposes; the other is "battle coal." For battle coal the navy officers state that none has been found satisfactory except that taken from the Pocahontas mines in Virginia. No other coal seems to develop the tremendous quantities of ignition.

A few years ago, it leaked out that the government was sending engineer officers to the Philippines to experiment with the coal there in the hope of finding battle quality nearer than half a world away from a certain foreign country known variously as Nippon and Japan.

Should our California oil develop into a satisfactory substitute for Pocahontas coal, it would appear to have two mighty facts.

First: It would seem to give us a strong advantage, if not actually over Japan, at least an advantage over our present status as against Japan.

Second: It would seem to make necessary a permanent Pacific fleet.

Should the Navy Department find it desirable to equip certain warships for burning California oil, those ships will stand a fine chance of remaining permanently on our coast. In a sense, it would mean the upgrowth of a Pacific Coast navy. Until this country about, we will always "get the worst of it" in the matter of warship protection.

It is to be hoped that the tubby old Cheyenne will please try her level best to burn oil so well that Pocahontas coal will be thrown back into the wood yard.

THE REAL ESTATE OUTLOOK.

We speak from knowledge in stating that the review of the real estate market presented in The Times of Thursday was read with general and deep interest by tens of thousands of persons in the city, outside of the city and all through the Great Southwest. In fact, the real estate department of The Times is in receipt of letters weekly from all over the country inquiring as to the conditions in specific sections of the city and particularly described classes of real estate.

In speaking of the conditions carefully and in detail, one of the persons interviewed, accounting for the very general and great improvement noted in the market, said it was owing to the fact that there is "more in sight" now than there was a year or two ago. By this he meant the back country on which Los Angeles depends had been more generally opened up and the various forms of wealth there more broadly developed. He also had in view the practical completion of the great harbor at San Pedro, the various movements going on there in building wharves and dredging out channels to furnish convenient dockage for ships. Another thing in the mind of the speaker was the fast approaching campaign for consolidation of the city with sister cities on the beach under the borough system and the good roads construction already provided for. In these various movements there is indeed a great deal in sight of such a character as must certainly greatly encourage all those interested in the various industries and developments of the country. It is not necessary to point out the truth of the proposition that with such underlying bases the real estate market must assume a more satisfactory condition and the outlook become much more encouraging.

As another of the speakers in that symposium said, the value of real estate in and around Los Angeles has enhanced and become more stable steadily during the last thirty years, and the "back country" to this city and valley has broadened. Thirty years ago the Sierra Madre Mountains bounded the back country to the city of Los Angeles. Such a limited area of tributary territory meant a limitation of city population at somewhere about 25,000. If one took into account the business likely to come here in connection with a possible harbor at San Pedro he might have strained a point to give Los Angeles city a population of 50,000. But inasmuch as our immediate back country today reaches to Salt Lake and El Paso, the possible population of the city broadens with the extension of this tributary territory. Now conceive the possibilities of business incident to the construction of the great harbor at San Pedro, undreamed of thirty years ago, and you broaden again the Los Angeles basin. But when you realize, as the business man just referred to does, that the real back country to the city of Los Angeles is the North American continent, you have then a foundation on which to build easily a city of 1,000,000 souls in due time.

That is a basis broad and stable enough on which to found an expectation of a firm real estate market. If we realize that this growth in population, not only in Los Angeles, but all around it and throughout all our immediate back country, is going on at an exceedingly rapid pace, we shall have no difficulty in reaching the very optimistic conclusion held by the real estate operators who spoke to the public through the columns of The Times on Thursday morning. With an ultimate prospect of a city of 1,000,000 souls, with a pretty sure expectation that this growth will be not less than 20,000 in almost any year, and likely to reach 30,000, we shall understand why there is an expectation of active dealing in the future will soon be over. The Times through its real estate department has been insistent for four years past that residence property in this city has been cheap at all times and is cheap now. The large dealers share this conviction of ours.

Some of the most enthusiastic operators look into the coming summer with an expectation of something very much akin to the boom of two or three years ago. We think this is not a well-founded hope and not a wise wish. What Los Angeles wants now, as always, is a good, wholesome, steady investment demand for property, rather than reckless plunging in speculation. At the same time, we think there is good reason to share the hopes of the conservative operators that the coming summer will prove to be one of great steady activity. The incoming of new people has been very large. A great many of these newcomers have been people of means, some of great wealth. They are already looking for investments in real estate for one purpose or another, and as activity increases little by little it will be but a short time until the market, which has been somewhat of a buyers' proposition for eighteen months, will turn in favor of the sellers.

We think this is not a well-founded hope and not a wise wish. What Los Angeles wants now, as always, is a good, wholesome, steady investment demand for property, rather than reckless plunging in speculation. At the same time, we think there is good reason to share the hopes of the conservative operators that the coming summer will prove to be one of great steady activity. The incoming of new people has been very large. A great many of these newcomers have been people of means, some of great wealth. They are already looking for investments in real estate for one purpose or another, and as activity increases little by little it will be but a short time until the market, which has been somewhat of a buyers' proposition for eighteen months, will turn in favor of the sellers.

Some of the most enthusiastic operators look into the coming summer with an expectation of something very much akin to the boom of two or three years ago. in the crude state to come in free. After the upturn in Paris following the Prussian war, many of the jewelers of that city of art fled to London and New York, where they set up business as cutters and setters of diamonds. This has become quite an industry in some of our eastern cities, and is growing. By keeping the duty on set jewels and letting the crude article in free, we are really encouraging an important "infant industry."

But why works of art are to be admitted free is beyond our comprehension. Of course if we say a painting 300 years old should be admitted free there would be some argument in favor of that. These gems are rare and hard to procure. The number of them coming into the United States of the genuine kind is small. But setting the limit at ten years looks like giving to the rich (who buy paintings) an advantage while the great mass of the people are taxed more highly for the clothes of the feminine part of the family than before.

The Door.

Her hands were not so soft as you touched them,
Nor were they of delicate hue;
They were hard and labor had smutched them—
She had always so much to do!

Others might idle in pleasure
The lingering hours away;
She never had a moment of leisure—
Except when she knelt to pray.

She was lowly of race, and no beauty
Nor riches she ever could boast;
The pathway to good she thought duty,
And that was the way she loved most.

So unto the sad and the weary
The touch of her hand was as balm,
And the words of her comforting cheery
As sweet to their ears as a psalm.

To those that were burdened with sorrow
She came like an angel to bless,
With hope of a brighter tomorrow,
When comfort should banish distress.

So she lived only known to her neighbors,
Remote from the world's busy ways;
And when she had ceased from her labors,
There were few to mourn her or praise.

But into the mansions of glory
Who can doubt of the welcome she had
From the Master, who knew all her story,
How she labored and loved and was glad?

HOROSCOPE.

Friday, April 2, 1909.
BY COZETTE.

Clear see the eyes of those who know mankind;
And counsel wise comes from the aged mind.
This is the 4,118,400th day since the commencement of the Julian period. The moon is in apogee.
Venus rules.

Saturn is in conjunction with the sun.
The sign of this day is in a high degree favorable to persons gifted with intuition. The aspects are promising for withstanding disease and mental oppression.

Saturn, generally the planet that plagues man, is made to move with great influence for stability and power, without which men are inclined to be restless and fickle on this day.

The signs are favorable for men of resolution and energy.
It is indicated that dealings with persons of power or authority are inclined toward good issue, especially if they are connected with the land or the produce thereof.

Good advice should come from the aged in these twenty-four hours and from men who live close to nature.

Rule and power are indicated for persons with this birthdate. Women should guard against un-reasoning jealousy during the twelfth month. Men will profit by looking at annoying problems with a broad mind and a calm spirit. Employees should have an opportunity for promotion.

The influence over children born this day are for great will power. Girls may incline toward art music or literature. Boys may show aptitude for governing, but should be guarded against any tendency to selfishness.

Quaker Sententiousness.

From the Philadelphia Record.
Optimism is a whitewash for the blues.
From the rolling-stone's point of view moss may not be a desirable asset.

There are almost as many different brands of reform as there are of religion.
A man's friends can sometimes make him more uncomfortable than his enemies.

Many a man who tells you he is deserving is lucky to escape what he deserves.

The man who contracts phthisis poisoning from eating lobsters probably eats too many.

When a girl boasts that she has a man at her feet we naturally wonder who threw him there.

MUSIC AND THE STAGE.

Gladys Richey, a pretty Los Angeles girl, who is only 18 years of age, has achieved a striking grand success in the East.

Richey went East to attend the Conservatory about four years ago on September 19 of last year as principal contralto with the Grand Opera Company. Her work was immediate, and she has since her first honors of late a series of striking character imitations in the West.

During the year she has sung every role in the French-Italian opera house.

What Do You Know About Shoes?

We ask that question not to be impertinent, but to cause you to think.

What does the name or the price of a shoe mean to you unless you have actually worn the shoe and know its value?

This is an age of specialists. Concentration upon a single object or line brings the greatest results. We make shoes our sole business. We give it our undivided attention. We study the needs and requirements of our patrons. We select such lines as from long experience we feel are best suited to this locality.

We are constantly endeavoring to give the greatest amount of style, comfort, and wear for a dollar.

We are never satisfied either with the character of our footwear or the volume of our business. To be satisfied is to go backward, and our watchword is—FORWARD.

you get it? A box of these connected April fool chocolates with cardboard and cotton? The girl who forgot to look at the calendar yesterday morning and absent-mindedly picked up that neat package that lay on the table at the corner of Third and Broadway afforded considerable fun for bystanders. It was estimated that during the sixty minutes that it lasted, the Panama hats and white gloves and other things of the summer season were picked up some fifty times on the bags.

These girls are springing up everywhere in Germany. They are university students, and doctors, and lecturers, and journalists, and novelists and painters and teachers and even engineers. Not having a good husband to bring home sausage and cabbage, they have gone out into the world to earn their own sausage and cabbage. But the conservatives, and especially the old people, who do not quite understand these new ideas about the freedom of women, are beginning to ask, "Who will do the housework?"

And now we read that Mrs. Calt is over in Berlin urging the German women to bring themselves and remember that they are living in the twentieth century. It looks pretty gloomy for the future of the smoking and beer-sipping husband if his housewife gets the suffragette idea in her head along with all the other American notions absorbed by his daughters.

through a six-foot pipe, but when he reached his way home, the wife of his bosom had cleaned up the house and put the children to bed, and he had a dolly with the German words for "God Bless Our Home," put out the slippers, and was ready to greet the home-coming lord and master with a pleasant smile. The young German girl who had nice, red cheeks, a domesticated temper, and a hundred dollars in the bank, might hope in time to become a hausfrau. If she did not have all these qualifications, she could never be anything higher than a maid.

The German girl, according to Mrs. Alfred Sidgwick, has now rebelled and of two evils has chosen neither. Instead of becoming a tame hausfrau or a tame spinster aunt, she has imitated her American sister and become a cheerful bachelor girl.

These bachelor girls are springing up everywhere in Germany. They are university students, and doctors, and lecturers, and journalists, and novelists and painters and teachers and even engineers. Not having a good husband to bring home sausage and cabbage, they have gone out into the world to earn their own sausage and cabbage. Probably the Greatest of Pre-Easter Suit Offerings $15

—Close to 200 suits at the price—lots which for several reasons come from different high-grade makers of women's fashions, at unusual price concessions.

—The pictures of perfect style now being shown in leading journals will give you an idea of the value—Materials, tailoring, the careful attention to every detail would warrant their quick sale at the regular prices they were made to retail at—and that we should offer them at now (to accord with the dictum of precedent, and usual before-Easter merchandising procedure)—On the contrary, this would be diametrically opposite to the Bullock policy.

—Give our customers the benefit of every saving, have come reminders from the seat of power and again—

—The benefits are yours today—in this suit sale. Values you might expect two weeks after Easter, certainly not one week before, in the very height of the full price season—$15.

Suits in blue, brown, black, taupe and gray mixtures. Remarkable values, $15.00.

Continuing Thursday's Offering Fine Waists $3.45

—should make this another day of remarkably brisk selling—

—Splendid Easter styles in lace and net waists—White, ecru, blue, and brown—Long sleeve effects—Many novelty color ideas.

—$5.00 and $6.75 values are numerous among them—Sale price $3.45.

$2.00 Chemise An Opportunity at $1.25

—A decisive reduction to clean up several short lines—Very dainty chemises with lace and ribbon bows and beading—Every size in the lot—and a grouping of many different styles—$2.00 Chemises at $1.25.

New House Dresses
—Are prettier—more becoming than house dresses have been won't to be——Of madras and flaxon—signed and finished—
—New long sleeve styles—New colors—
Every size $4.00, $6.00, $8.75.

Girls' New Sweaters
—In white, gray and red—
—Sizes six to ten years—
—In all wool neat patterns with two pockets—one on each side—
The price, $2.50, is a feature. See them today.

The Easter Hat Is Bringing Women by Scores to Bullock's

—Every day brings Easter closer—Every day emphasizes Bullock's more strongly as the most powerful millinery authority in the southwest.

—The display of beautiful hats on the second floor is superb——Surprising values at $5.00 and more—
—New beauties will be out today—in every shade and effect endowed with Bullock individuality.

CATTLE COMPANY ORGANIZED.

Los Angeles, Pasadena and Corcoran Capitalists Are Interested in Big New Venture.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.)
CORCORAN, April 1.—The Farmers' Cattle Company, composed of Los Angeles, Pasadena and Corcoran capitalists, has been organized with a capital stock of $500,000, for the purpose of utilizing the beef pulp from the sugar factory for the fattening of cattle. A contract has been closed with the Pacific Sugar Corporation for all the pulp from the big mill for fifteen years. This carries with it provision for the use of sufficient land near the factory to accommodate 3000 head of stock. Lumber is already on the ground for the construction of corrals, feeding pens and a large silo for preserving the pulp, which will enable the company to have a fresh supply of feed during the entire year. The officers and directors of the cattle company are: president, George A. Smith, Corcoran; vice-president, J. W. McCauley, Pasadena; secretary, George Frost, Pasadena; treasurer, J. H. Holmes, manager of Hotel Green, Pasadena; J. B. Durand, M. Eason.

G. E. Kinney, formerly editor and proprietor of the Judsonian of Judsonia, Ark., has purchased a half interest in the Corcoran Journal. The increasing business of the Journal office makes it necessary to enlarge the capacity of the plant, and the business will be conducted under the firm name of Mitchell & Kinney. Both are practical newspaper men.

An Ideal Opportunity TO PURCHASE A PIANO To Select From

In our rental department, we have made a specialty of renting strictly new, high-grade pianos to a class of tourists demanding the very best and willing to pay for it. These people are now leaving for their homes after spending the season in Los Angeles and the pianos, after being used from three to six months, are being returned to us. These pianos have been replenished, the only work necessary after the slight service they have had, to make them practically new instruments.

This is an opportunity you cannot afford to miss. A high-grade piano, used not to exceed six months, at a greatly reduced price. If you ever expect to own a piano do not hesitate.

We desire to move all of this stock at once and have made prices to that end. The prices are too low to publish, but if you will call, at once we will acquaint you with them. Easy terms of payment if desired.

We also have some pianos slightly used, of various makes, including Chickering, Fischer, Chase, Wheelock and others taken in exchange on our high-grade Pianos and Player Pianos, that we are offering very low. Some of these have been used less than two years.

A scholarship ticket in the De Chauvenet Conservatory of Music accompanies each piano sold during the month of April.

through a six-foot pipe, but when he reached his way home, the wife of his bosom had cleaned up the house and put the children to bed, and he had a dolly with the German words for "God Bless Our Home," put out the slippers, and was ready to greet the home-coming lord and master with a pleasant smile. The young German girl who had nice, red cheeks, a domesticated temper, and a hundred dollars in the bank, might hope in time to become a hausfrau. If she did not have all these qualifications, she could never be anything higher than a maid.

The German girl, according to Mrs. Alfred Sidgwick, has now rebelled and of two evils has chosen neither. Instead of becoming a tame hausfrau or a tame spinster aunt, she has imitated her American sister and become a cheerful bachelor girl.

These bachelor girls are springing up everywhere in Germany. They are university students, and doctors, and lecturers, and journalists, and novelists and painters and teachers and even engineers. Not having a good husband to bring home sausage and cabbage, they have gone out into the world to earn their own sausage and cabbage. But the conservatives, and especially the old people, who do not quite understand these new ideas about the freedom of women, are beginning to ask, "Who will do the housework?"

And now we read that Mrs. Calt is over in Berlin urging the German women to bring themselves and remember that they are living in the twentieth century. It looks pretty gloomy for the future of the smoking and beer-sipping husband if his housewife gets the suffragette idea in her head along with all the other American notions absorbed by his daughters.

Members of the "Glad Hand" excursion to Imperial Valley and Yuma, returned yesterday, well pleased with the trip. The wholesalers cultivated the acquaintance of prospective buyers and made many friends among the merchants of the Imperial Valley. One of the excursionists bought 640 acres of land near Imperial and another invested in several thousand head of stock.

"The trip was a great success from every standpoint," said Willis H. Booth, president of the Chamber of Commerce. "It is well to extend our commercial territory and I am a firm believer in making all that wonderful valley tributary to Los Angeles in a mercantile way. The citizens like our people and the business men like to trade here. Customers always like to see the representatives of the jobbing houses. We want to show our interest and desire for trade."

Mr. Booth said the trip was a revelation for many of the party. They marveled at the transformation of the desert into the rich pasture lands and fertile orchards.

Secretary Wiggins praised the equipment of the special train which was furnished by the Southern Pacific. He said Al Levy, one of the party, was enthusiastic over the meals served in the diner. All the viands were made from home products.

"I saw a great improvement in the Imperial Valley," said Wiggins. "Last year, a wonderful number of remarkable products there. This time the fine streets, substantial buildings and modern improvements alike with admiration for the wide-awake settlers. It is a great country."

As specimens of the fertility of the soil, Secretary Wiggins brought back a sweet potato weighing twenty-three pounds, and a cabbage weighing twenty-two pounds at two-two pounds.

The excursion was such a success that the chamber will at once begin preparations for a trip through the San Joaquin Valley. President Booth is heartily in favor of getting out among the residents of adjacent territory and cultivating the friendship of the business men. He believes the Chamber of Commerce excursions will be big trade boosters for this city.

LOS ANGELES ORPHANS' HOME PLANS NEW MOVE.

Specifications Prepared for Unique Buildings to Make a Model Institution at Colegrove—Advantage Will Be Taken of Offer of Land by Local Philanthropist.

To raise $75,000 by popular subscription inside thirty days to build model quarters at Colegrove is the purpose of the Los Angeles Orphans' Home. The move has been under contemplation some time. The plans for the buildings are nearing completion in the office of Parkinson & Bergstrom, architects.

Charles M. Stimson of Pasadena has given five acres of land in Colegrove to the institution, and the specifications have been drawn up in conformity with the new plan.

The home is the oldest of its kind in Los Angeles, and has hitherto been supported by a group of philanthropic people of this city. Its present move is the first occasion that it has come before the public for funding.

The present building has only small cement courts as playgrounds, and the building itself is now inadequate to meet the growing work.

In nearly every respect the new plans agree with the recommendations of the Children's Congress called in Washington a year ago by President Roosevelt. At that time it was agreed that the best housing for orphans was the cottage plan, instead of the separate gate plan, now generally in use, and these ideas have been incorporated in the new plan.

The new plan calls for a group of five cottages, each with a central hall, and a large playground, and a large building for the administration and kitchen.

RACE RIOT FURIOUS.

One Man May Die as Result of Clash Between Italian and Mexican Laborers.

SAN DIEGO, April 1.—One man is expected to die and two others are severely injured as the result of a savage affray between Mexican and Italian laborers employed on the Point Loma Railroad, this afternoon. José Deturi is the man thought to be fatally hurt. He has a knife wound in the side. His brother, Tony, and Camote Perez are badly cut up. Just how the trouble started is not known, but there was a pitched battle lasting nearly half an hour between the gangs of Italians and Mexicans, knives, shovels and hammers being used as weapons.

The American foreman, J. R. Rogers, was mainly instrumental in quelling the disturbance, and he resorted to rough measures to attain that end. The affair ended by a spectacular chase by the Italians after the Mexican, Perez. The latter finally took refuge in the house of a woman school-teacher, and later was taken to the County Jail. The other injured men were taken to a hospital.

SPIRIT FAKES.

side her sat a gray-haired woman "spook" from San Francisco; she attempted to look horrified, but could not help giggling. "You went to the inner circle," asked Attorney Hunnaker, who, with Maj. Jones, is counsel for Mrs. Barnett. "Sure," said the witness cheerfully. "And you sat naked?" "Oh, yes."

CLASSIC OATH. "Did you have to take an oath not to reveal what went on there?" "Yes; it was a half-raiser, too. Simply a blood curdler. I found out it was taken from the 'Alexander Dumas' Queen's Necktie."

"How is it you consider yourself absolved from that oath?" "It was understood that we were not to impart any information until we had attained a certain degree of perfection. I guess (with a sly grin) I have arrived at a state of sufficient understanding."

"Were there women there, too, in a naked state?" "Sure thing."

He spoke particularly of a circle that met on Mission street in San Francisco, a bit of money conducted by the Patterson family. He said he remembered that Mrs. Patterson and her two daughters sat around naked with the others in the dark, until one of the daughters had to sneak out to dress up as the materialized spirit bride of one of the old men present.

Garrison went on gleefully to tell about a "compass" seance held on Hill street in this city, some months ago, in which there were forty sitters.

AUGUR HOLE SPIRIT. He conducted it with an assistant named Alexander from Arizona. He said he stationed himself in the cellar, and Alexander slipped the ballots to him through an auger hole in the floor. He caught them in cup tied on the end of a broom handle. He then answered the questions through a trumpet. He said he even told the audience through the trumpet that the whole thing was a fraud; but they were so credulous that they believed it.

He said he actually believed it, all the fakes and employed him to give demonstrations before the Oakland Spiritualists.

REALLY SINCERE. "One night," he said, to show how far "under" she was, "she came to my empty cabinet and peered in, much as she told the audience, I believe in perfect sincerity, that she saw her mother's face there. Pretty soon I poked my hand out and she kissed me, and she said it was the hand of her spirit guide."

"At the end of the course for which I was employed, I exposed the whole fake. The Society broke up, and Madam Montague was discharged."

Referring to Bradshaw, the real estate man of this city, the witness said that Bradshaw is shaven with doubts one way or another.

"Even after I explained it all to him, he came to me and said that he had had an experience that could not be explained. He said he had gone to a woman named Kahra in San Francisco."

"She had seated him at a table and invited him to write out the names of any spirit friends and questions he wanted to ask, and then in an envelope he had the answers. He said he had never seen her before, but he had been in San Francisco, having been in East Los Angeles since his recent marriage, but he said what he can among his old constituents to prevent a majority from voting for the proposed merger."

He is reported to have made the statement that the San Pedro Board of Trustees would soon adopt an ordinance closing the saloons of that place on Sunday.

It is this question of the regulation of the saloons that has caused the opposition to consolidation. There are only twelve saloons in San Pedro, but the keeper of each is in fear that he will have to close his place in the event of a union of the two cities—reasoning that, as the Police Commission of Los Angeles has permitted only 200 saloons to be conducted in the city, those in San Pedro would have to close immediately after consolidation.

As this limit is not fixed by the charter, and can be adjusted to meet the conditions, it is clear there is no force to this argument.

The San Pedro Chamber of Commerce split on the question of consolidation, and as a result many of its members have seceded to form a new civic body—the Board of Trade. The Chamber of Commerce is said to have been left with membership of about forty, all against consolidation, while the new Board of Trade is reported to have a membership of close to 200, made up of all classes of citizens, all in favor of the proposed merger.

The Board of Trade probably will hold an election of officers tomorrow night, when plans will be made for boosting the consolidation movement.

Street scenes yesterday by influential business men and many of the principal property owners of San Pedro, are to the effect that a majority of the people of that city are for union of the two cities. All they ask is a clear understanding of the plans of the people.

In addition to Chairman Stephens, the members of the Los Angeles Consolidation Commission, which will meet today are Stoddard Jess, Homer Hamilton, W. B. Braun, J. A. Anderson, Leslie R. Hight, Frank Simpson, J. Scott, M. H. Newmark, J. M. Schneider, A. P. Fleming, M. P. Snyder, H. Jenne, O. E. Farish and F. J. Hart.

PROCESS REVERSED. While riding a motorcycle at Sixty-fourth street and Union avenue about 6 o'clock last evening, F. C. Harvey of No. 241 East Sixty-fifth street, was struck by a Los Angeles Pacific street car, thrown to the pavement, and sustained a sprained back and painful bruises about the head and body.

Harvey was pitched several yards. He was treated for his injuries at the Receiving Hospital.

SUDDENLY INSANE. While walking with his wife at Third street and Grand avenue last evening, John A. Worthington, a real estate dealer of No. 44 South Spring, became suddenly insane and so threatening that the police were called.

Police Station and this morning will be arraigned before the lunacy commission. Worthington recovered recently from a severe illness, which doctors believe, affected his mind.

BEATS HIS "SWEETHEART." Following a "sweetheart" quarrel yesterday afternoon, Miguel Morini inflicted a terrific beating to Mrs. Josefa Morina at the home of the young woman on New High street. When Mrs. Morina was taken to the Receiving Hospital her back legs were covered a mass of welts. Morini was arrested on the charge of battery.

FALLS DOWN STEPS. Manuel Holguin, a guest at the Hotel Nadeau, First and Spring streets, tripped and fell down a flight of steps there yesterday afternoon, sustaining a collar fracture of the left wrist. Holguin was treated at the receiving hospital.

NOTHING ON EARTH LIKE IT.

Mrs. Evans Strongly Favors Cooper Treatment.

Life Miserable for Past Four Years.

Easterner's Visit Is Over in Two Weeks.

Statements are being made daily by many people of Los Angeles that are the strongest sort of endorsements of L. T. Cooper's new treatment.

Cooper has a theory that 90 per cent. of all sickness is caused by stomach trouble, and is meeting the public at the Owl Drug Company's store, No. 425 South Broadway, to explain this theory and introduce his proprietary, which, he claims, will regulate the stomach in six weeks' time.

Among several statements made Thursday afternoon was the following by Mrs. J. R. Evans of No. 35 East Third-second street, Los Angeles. Mrs. Evans said:

"I have been a great sufferer with chronic stomach trouble. At times I could eat nothing but toast. I rarely could eat meat of any sort, and even fish fermented almost at once in my stomach and would come up again shortly after I finished eating it. I was nervous and depressed and slept very badly. I had become so dependent over my condition that I thought nothing would help me."

"About a month ago one of my friends told me of this Cooper treatment, and insisted that I try it. Upon her advice I saw one of Cooper's assistants, and obtained the treatment. It was a lucky day for me when I did so, for it helped me from the start. It is not like any other medicine I have ever taken. It seemed to soothe my stomach and act like a tonic. It has built me up in every way, and I am 100 per cent. better than for years. I don't believe there is another medicine like it on earth."

In an interview Thursday Cooper said: "My visit to Los Angeles is almost over. Many thousands of people in this city are now taking my medicine, and I have certainly been here long enough to give all who wish to call an opportunity to do so. I shall be here about two weeks longer, and then go to San Francisco." (Adv.)

CONSOLIDATION.

commodation of vessels of lighter draft.

"What we wish now is the earliest possible development of the outer harbor, and it is in the belief of members of my committee that this is the first thing to accomplish after consolidation is effected."

"Let the automobile highway be extended to the outer harbor at the outset, it will be equally valuable for the harbor, and the city may be equipped with wharves and docks."

The opposition to consolidation is not due to the fact that Bradshaw failed to defeat the bill in the Legislature, has been active in the harbor city for two or three days, endeavoring to kill the movement. His home is no longer in San Pedro, having been in East Los Angeles since his recent marriage, but he said what he can among his old constituents to prevent a majority from voting for the proposed merger."

He is reported to have made the statement that the San Pedro Board of Trustees would soon adopt an ordinance closing the saloons of that place on Sunday.

It is this question of the regulation of the saloons that has caused the opposition to consolidation. There are only twelve saloons in San Pedro, but the keeper of each is in fear that he will have to close his place in the event of a union of the two cities—reasoning that, as the Police Commission of Los Angeles has permitted only 200 saloons to be conducted in the city, those in San Pedro would have to close immediately after consolidation.

As this limit is not fixed by the charter, and can be adjusted to meet the conditions, it is clear there is no force to this argument.

GOOD DEMAND. REALTY MARKET IS VERY BRISK.

WIDE COUNTY ACTIVITY IS NOTEWORTHY.

Only Are There Many Trans-County Property and Orange County. But Deal in Average Area at Beaumont, San Jacinto, and Perris.

ERRIDE, April 1.—Unprecedented estate activity throughout Riverside county is shown by the business of County Recorder's office, which last month just closed broke all records since the county was organized. Nearly 25 per cent. more deeds were filed in March than in the corresponding period last year.

Records show that all sections of the county are sharing in the property activity. Not only have many of Riverside orange groves property been made, but a number of deals have been made in Beaumont, San Jacinto, and Perris, and other parts of the county.

Deeds received for the past month turned over by County Recorder to the County Treasurer totaled $146,555 for the month of March, 1939, as compared with $115,000 for the corresponding period last year. By far the greatest number of deeds filed were in the city of Riverside, 123 mortgages and 178 deeds, and 100 deeds of mortgages were put on file in addition to an unusually large number of mining locations and numerous instruments.

RECHARGES ORANGE GROVE. The purchase was made by N. R. Shuler of the eleven-acre orange grove on Monroe street owned by E. E. Turner for a consideration of $10,000. The land is under a C. C. Bond & Son.

BUILDING PERMITS. Building permits taken out in March totaled $45,711, bringing the total for the first quarter of the year to $147,311. It is estimated that the new buildings in progress in the neighborhood of $100,000.

HALL-MERIGOLD. Marie Louise Merigold of Los Angeles became the bride of Richard Hall of Chicago last evening at the Episcopal Church. Rev. C. C. Dotson was the officiating minister. The bride, who was escorted by a maid of honor, attended by Misses Mary Merigold and Jessie M. Moore of Winona.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED. A pretty dinner party at the home of Mrs. E. J. Burgess at Arlington last evening, the announcement of the engagement of her daughter, Miss Hazel Burgess, to Elmer C. Dotson, was made. The marriage will take place in the near future. Suggestive of the coming of the bride, the table was decorated with pink and white flowers, and the place cards were color sketches of old shoes and slippers. Games and music were enjoyed by the guests. The bride and groom are both graduates of the University of California.

MOTORS FOR DEATH VALE.

Huge Automobile Borax Train Brought All the Way from England.

SAN DIEGO, April 1.—A huge automobile borax train was yesterday unloaded from the steamer Nebraskan and will be shipped from here by rail to Daggett for use in hauling borax from the Death Valley mines to that station. There are five cars in the train, each being driven by its own motor. The duty alone was $4000, the machines being imported from England, coming by Transatlantic steamer to Mexico, and thence across the asthmus by the Tehantepec Railway, to Salinas Cruz.

SEEKING VOTES WITH FLOWERS.

TEMPERANCE WOMEN INSTITUTE NOVEL CAMPAIGN.

They Were Working Men at San Diego With Buttons and Smiles. One Million Bouquets to Be Distributed—Fire Breaks Out in Doctors' Offices.

SAN DIEGO, April 1.—With flowers, ribbons and smiles the temperance women of San Diego hope to capture votes for the cause of the no-saloon ordinance next Tuesday's election. At a meeting last night it was decided to begin at once a systematic campaign through the use of flowers. A committee of prominent women has been delegated to conduct the campaign. The first attempt was made last night when a meeting of workmen was held at the Garrick Theater. As the entrance of the building a score of smiling, harmoniously dressed women presented each man with a buttonhole bouquet.

It is estimated that before the campaign closes Monday night 1,000,000 flowers will have been given away. At a meeting last night it was decided to begin at once a systematic campaign through the use of flowers. A committee of prominent women has been delegated to conduct the campaign. The first attempt was made last night when a meeting of workmen was held at the Garrick Theater. As the entrance of the building a score of smiling, harmoniously dressed women presented each man with a buttonhole bouquet.

Among the women prominent in this movement are Mrs. Fannie Newman, Mrs. J. C. Ford, Mrs. George W. Marston, Mrs. Ella Whitmore, Miss Jessie Stephens, Miss Gertrude La Turlette and others.

FIRE RUINS INSTRUMENTS. Fire at 2 o'clock this morning practically ruined the office furniture and valuable musical instruments of Dr. H. N. Gott and Dr. H. C. Post, on the third floor of the five-story Granger block. The loss is covered by insurance.

Preparations are being made at the Dehesa ranch for the homecoming of William H. Wheeler, late Assistant Secretary of Labor and Commerce, who is expected home early next week. Mrs. Wheeler has been at the ranch since March 1.

TITUS RAVES. Hawley Titus, who asserts that at one time he was a prominent attorney of Chattanooga, Tenn., has become a raving maniac at the County Jail, where he is held on a charge of passing a bogus check for $50 on a local cigar dealer. While here yesterday, Detective McNamara of Los Angeles said Titus resembled a man wanted by the police department of that city.

PERRY GOES TO JAIL. Because he refused to pay his first wife's alimony to the amount of $1000, Roland Hinton Perry, a sculptor and painter, was committed today to Lindero-street jail, New York, for six months.

By going to prison, Perry is relieved of the alimony obligation, or at least of further imprisonment as the penalty for failure to pay. The State laws provide that six months is the limit of jail confinement for the delinquent.

In 1906 Perry was divorced from Mrs. Hinton Perry, and later married Mrs. May Hanbury of this city. He alleged inability to pay alimony, as the divorce court ordered. During the sculptor's stay in jail, his wife and their four months' old son will live with Mr. Perry's mother at New York.

CASTLE RISES FROM SEA. Mirages on the ocean are occasionally seen here, but those witnessed off Point Loma today had no parallel. One took the form of a vast castle rising from the sea off the Coronado Islands. It remained visible for several minutes. Then it disappeared in a cloud of mist, and in its place was the reflection of what appeared to be a large city. These phenomena were witnessed by a number of tourists visiting the Point Loma lighthouse. The day was remarkably clear and bright.

TROLLEY LINE BUT NO TRACK.

SANTA BARBARA COMPANY ASKS FOR A FRANCHISE.

Line Will Be Used for the Conveyance of Wealthy Men to New Country Club and Hope Ranch Sites—Mayor Announces New Board of Public Works.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] SANTA BARBARA, April 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Pacific Improvement Company tonight applied to the City Council for a franchise to build a trackless trolley power line from the Potter Hotel to the Hope ranch, nearly five miles. The trackless trolley will be utilized for the conveyance of people between the hotel and the Potter-Country Club, as well as to the Hope ranch sites for the colony of wealthy men's home now opened to the public. Next morning application will be made to the supervisors for a similar franchise from the city limits to the clubhouse. The erection of the poles for the power line is already in progress, and it is expected that by summer time the cars will be in operation.

NEW BOARD. Mayor Boesche tonight announced his Board of Public Works, created by the passage a year ago of amendments to the city charter, thus: Neal Callahan, hotel man; George Rutherford, blacksmith and George Gregson, hotel man. The board takes the place of the Street Superintendent, and the City Council from street work. Santa Barbara is on the eve of starting a general plan of street-paving work that will mean an expenditure of more than $200,000, and consequently the duties of the new board will be important.

TEACHER RESIGNS. Miss Helen Watson of Hollywood has resigned the position of teacher at the department of mathematics in the local High School, to accept a similar place in the Hollywood High School. Miss Watson came here nearly three years ago.

CASE DISMISSED. The case against Dr. Carl W. Dewlaney, the local dentist who was accused of "unlawfully detaining a girl under 17 years of age in apartments without the consent of her guardians," was dismissed in the Superior Court today on motion of the District Attorney, who said the evidence against the defendant was insufficient. Attorney John J. Squier, for the defense, was in favor of fighting the case.

RUTAN RESIGNS. Deputy District Attorney Gives Up Public Position at Santa Ana to Take Up Private Practice.

SANTA ANA, April 1.—Deputy District Attorney A. W. Rutan resigned today and Atty.-Atty. Davis immediately filled the vacancy by appointing S. S. Finley of Huntington Beach. Rutan spent his boyhood days in this county. Until recently he practiced law in Chicago. He held a position in the subtreasury at Chicago in the McKinley and Roosevelt administrations. His reason for resigning was to accept an advantageous offer.

A petition has been filed with the Superior Court asking that S. T. Rutherford be appointed fire patrol on the Cleveland national forest this summer at a salary of $75 per month. Preparations are being made at the Dehesa ranch for the homecoming of William H. Wheeler, late Assistant Secretary of Labor and Commerce, who is expected home early next week. Mrs. Wheeler has been at the ranch since March 1.

A. M. Case, who some months ago managed a vaudeville theater here, was arrested in Boyle Heights, Los Angeles, yesterday, and brought here on a charge of defrauding a hotel. Case disappeared after a few weeks here and is accused of taking the box receipts with him. A number of bills were cashed at the hotel, and Case, who is a native of Chicago, was arrested on a complaint against him.

The preliminary examination of Edward R. Rutter, charged with attempting to kill C. N. Gary over a real estate deal, was today continued to April 15. The defense wants to get Gary's testimony on the preliminary examination, and at present he is too ill to testify. Dr. C. D. Ball, chairman of the medical board held Tuesday, has appointed Z. B. West, A. J. Crookshank, E. E. Remberg, E. B. Trugo and C. C. Black as a citizens' committee to confer with the Board of Education in laying plans for a bond election for school purposes.

ORGANIZATION PROJECTED. Members of Associated Chambers of Commerce of Orange County Meet at Anaheim.

ANAHEIM, April 1.—A meeting of the associated Chambers of Commerce of Orange county was held in this city last night with an attendance of twenty-three. Nearly every chamber and M. and M. Association in the county was represented.

The new organization was perfected, and Dr. Wickett of the Anaheim chamber was elected vice-president, the other officers having been chosen at a previous meeting.

The constitution and bylaws were adopted, after which a banquet was given at the Commercial Hotel.

HOW TO DEVELOP BUST, ARMS AND NECK.

Get separately "two ounces glycerine," "three ounces rose water" and "one ounce tincture cadomene compound" (not cadomene). Five cents worth of borax. Take home, mix the glycerine with tincture cadomene, shake and let stand two hours; then add a teaspoonful of borax and mix thoroughly. Shake well and apply to the neck, arms and bust, rubbing and massaging until completely absorbed; then wash thoroughly with hot water and soap and dry thoroughly. Apply morning and night regularly for several weeks and the most beautiful development will begin to reward the efforts. It is believed by experts to be the most necessary and effective prescription ever conceived.

GARBAGE TALK.

Improvement Associations Discuss Disposition of City's Waste and Hear of Situation Elsewhere.

Members of the Federated Improvement Association met last evening with the Euclid Heights Association, Fresno street and Stephenson avenue, to talk over the disposition of the city's garbage. This is a live topic because of the proposal now before the Council that the city of Los Angeles give a ten-year contract to scavengers, who wish to feed the refuse to hogs.

W. H. McGill, member of the Board of Public Works, was an interested attendant at the meeting, and several other city officials also were present. The proposal now before the Council that the city of Los Angeles give a ten-year contract to scavengers, who wish to feed the refuse to hogs.

The San Francisco report was to the effect that its garbage contract was let to a private incinerating company fifteen years ago, for a term of fifty years, and that the city now is negotiating a new contract by paying a bonus of $100,000 above the worth of the plant. The San Francisco householders, it was reported, are required to pay scavengers for collecting the garbage, the collectors paying a certain amount to have it burned, or dumped in any place, and after taking out such as can be used for feeding hogs and other animals.

MAN OF MANY THEFTS?

James Smith, who was arrested Wednesday afternoon by Detectives Haskie and Ziegler at his home on Melrose avenue, charged with the limits, is believed by police to have been the perpetrator of a score or more of petty thefts in Los Angeles and Pasadena in the past three months. Detectives assert they have evidence of a number of jobs turned in the two cities. All the jobs were small, however, and Smith can only be charged with petty larceny when he is arraigned in the Police Court this morning. While no loot was found in Smith's rooms, several pawn tickets were found on his person, which were traced to stolen goods. Thus far detectives have fastened about $300 in thefts on Smith, and he is charged with being cheap jewelry and knick-knacks of small value.

PROMISES TO BE GOOD.

Love Tung, a Chinese merchant who was implicated in extensive smuggling operations in past years, according to the Federal authorities, was released from custody yesterday. He furnished evidence which helped break up a gang of smugglers in this State, and was an important witness in the government in the Gerald trial. He solemnly promised Deputy United States District Attorney Charles E. Smith to abstain from illegal practices in the future and to confine himself to selling goods in Chinatown. He has given a suit of American clothing, money, and his certificate before leaving the County Jail.

PELL INTO QUICKSAND.

NEW YORK, April 1.—Milton Hertz, the 6-year-old son of a janitor in Harlem, had the double misfortune of falling into the roof of his home, a distance of forty-five feet, and landing in a quicksand bog below. He was conscious when he landed, but he was unable to get out, and he was found by a passerby. He was taken to a hospital, where he is now recovering from his injuries. His father, who is a janitor, is now looking for a new home for his family.
